To Whom It May Concern,

I am a committed liberal and democrat and a proud and out member of the LGBTQIA+ community. I would be thrilled to be able to work at an organization that may have an actual political impact on the United States and our culture.

I have worked as a developer and engineer since 2011. I am experienced with the core technologies mentioned in the job posting: Ruby on Rails, GraphQL, JavaScript, React, Node.js, TypeScript, DataDog, and BugSnag. I bring extensive engineering experience with me and the ability to make firm high-level technical decisions.

As a highly-skilled professional with deep technical knowledge and experience, I value quality, thoughtfulness, collaboration, and relationships with humans. I am currently seeking a staff or senior-level software engineering position at a small to mid-sized organization where I may pursue some of the finest engineering work of my career. Please review my attached resume and application. If you agree that I fit the profile and skills for the position, please reach out to me and schedule a conversation.

Sincerely,

Kyle Yetter
